I, you and all are music lovers somehow, many more listen deeply, few listen partially and some listen frequently. But, music plays a predominant role in our lives, It never die neither defame.

Music lovers across all nations have been keen to celebrate World Music Day.

Every year it is observed on 21 June, Citizens of all countries are encouraged to play music outside in their neighborhoods, public spaces, and parks. Free & Live concerts are often organized, where musicians play music for fun, raise fund for charity, noble causes and natural calamities.

Also, due to COVID-19 outbreak many musicians now a days are all set to launch and release music on online platforms (Amazon Prime, Netflix, SONY Liv, Hot Star etc.) social media (Instagram, Facebook, YouTube etc.) for the sake of safety and health concerns. All follows the protocols of COVID appropriate behavior.

World Music Day first took place in Paris back in 1982 after French composer Maurice Fleuret began 'dreaming of a way to bring musicians out onto the streets.' He had discovered that one out of every two young people in France at the time played a musical instrument.

Since 37 years, this day festival is celebrated by over 132 countries worldwide and counting.
